Since the day I was pregnant with my 3 girls I have been caring for them. Every decision I made revolves around them. So many choices and decisions, from what I ate to make them healthy, to which car seat was the safest, spreading out their vaccines, which foods are best for them, which cleaning products are safe for them, and so forth. I have always made the choices to keep them safe, after endless hours of research. I love my kids more than life itself, and want what I feel is best for them. I'm THEIR mother. That is my job. Until suddenly others feel they know what is best for MY kids.

It's apparent that the covid vaccine is like the next flu vaccine. Everyone is getting covid, vaccinated or not. We all had it in January, and my kids showed very little symptoms, and were recovered in 36 hours. It was like a mild flu.

I don't see the point of forcing a decision on me, when I have witnessed first hand how covid affected my children. They have the antibodies now. I will not put an experimental drug in my babies. We just won't. We will move out of state, where we have the freedoms to make the choices for our children.

The masks should be a choice too. Everyone should have the freedom to choose what they see fit for THEIR children. If you don't feel safe, wear a mask. So many other states have this simple freedom. We are the ONLY state that is taking this away.

We are approaching the end of this. It's time. Let my kids breathe, let them be kids, let me CHOOSE what I see is the best for them, as I always have. Please, I want my kids to have a normal childhood again.
